Black^{AND} Khaki February 24

NAME TAGS

We provide name tags for the choir to wear each week in rehearsal. This is to help us get to know each other and thus, become a closer group. It is easy to learn the folks in your section but we want to be a family of worship leaders. I have great joy in introducing members to each other. We are a large enough group to not know everyone. Also, God has blessed us with a number of new members. We want to make them feel welcome and allow them to get to know our names. So, please wear your name tags at rehearsal. One week it might really pay off.

BLACK AND KHAKI

On the last Sunday or each month, we wear black and khaki instead of choir robes. This provides a different look and a new encouragement to worship. The preference is for everyone to wear solid khaki pants or skirt and a solid black top. Options include solid black. Please make sure these are all solid colors and nothing sparkling. Our goal is to look like a group. We give up the individuality for the good of the whole. This is to hide ourselves and magnify Jesus.

You will get a card in the mail the week prior to a the Black and Khaki Sunday. I will also send you and email on Friday or Saturday to remind you. I also remind you that we ask you not to wear perfume or cologne. We have some in our group who have allergies. Do use plenty of deodorant. Ha. Thank you for sacrificing to serve Jesus.

11AM CHOIR

As another sign of unity in our church and playing off the collective worships we have had, we are starting the 8:30 and 11 am worship with some crossover elements. You noticed last week, that John Mark Cox came in to help lead the first two songs. He will continue to do that. Also, I asked those who could stay for one song in the 11 am worship to be a part of a small choir to assist congregational singing. We did that last week and had a good group. It does not have to be the same people each week. We would like to have 15-20 who will sing for the first song and then can leave. There was a great response to both of these worship starts. The congregation clapped to have John Mark with us. The congregation clapped at 11 for the choir's participation. We truly are one in body and Spirit at FBC. This is another way to show it. Thank you for your prayers and participation.

REHEARSAL SCHEDULE

We are back to our regular rehearsal schedule. Every Wednesday night at 5:30 for the choir and 6 pm for the orchestra. Thank you for joining us each week. We expect you every week but know that you can't make every rehearsal. Come every time you can. Rehearsal is so important for you and for those you help around you with your voice and your presence. Childcare is always available as needed. Just let us know that you need this service.

LEGACY TRIP

We have had a few openings come up for the Legacy trip to St. Augustine, Amelia Island and Jacksonville, Florida. We travel April 28-May 4. This is a bus ride trip. Almost all your expenses are covered for only $630 (double occupancy). Contact Dana for a brochure and more information. A $75 deposit is required at the time you sign up. Come join the fun.

DEVOTION BOOK

The church is delighted to provide to you copies of "The Believer's Code." It is 365 devotions to help you through the year. It will be a good supplement to your daily devotions or a way to begin to have a quiet time. This is a great support of the G95 Bible Reading plan. Pick one up tonight. They are available on the conductor's podium in the Choir Rehearsal Room.

LOVING CLARKSVILLE

Our churchwide missions effort this month is to deliver boxes of cookies to those in our community who serve others. This will include police, firemen, schools and others. You can help by packing cookies on Wednesday, February 13 or delivering cookies on Thursday, February 14. Sign up Sunday in the foyer to help.

INVITE SOMEONE

Now is a great time for a new person to come visit rehearsal. We are beginning Easter music and starting new music for Sundays. Each time of fellowship will give them a way to meet people. Look and listen for those who might join us. Share the word that we have a few more available robes for those God is calling to lead with us. We are grateful for all who join us. We especially need tenors and basses right now.
